

Norfolk General Hospital's COVID-19 Assessment Centre set to reopen on Tuesday, September 7

With a rise in COVID-19 cases, demand for testing, and anticipation of increased volumes in September as students return to school, Norfolk General Hospital's COVID-19 Assessment Centre will return to service after Labour Day to meet the needs of our community.

- Tuesday, September 7, 2021, the Norfolk General Hospital (NGH) COVID-19 Assessment Centre, located at the Robinson Street entrance, will resume operations on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday from 8 am to 4 pm.

Our COVID-19 Assessment Centre will only test those who fall within the Ontario provincial guidelines. The Assessment Centre is not permitted to and does not provide any swabs or testing required for travel or to attend/participate/gain entry to public events (i.e. sporting events, and concerts.) For asymptomatic testing, please visit a pharmacy or lab offering these tests. A list of these locations is available on the provincial government website: <https://covid-19.ontario.ca/assessment-centre-locations>

Residents can book an appointment for a test by using our online booking tool.

Since October of 2020, NGH has administered over 13,500 COVID-19 tests at our assessment centre.

Getting tested is one of the most effective strategies to minimize the spread of COVID-19. Anyone who has been exposed to a COVID-19 positive person or is experiencing symptoms should get tested.

Media contact:

Aaron Gautreau
Director of Communications & Public Relations
Norfolk General Hospital &
West Haldimand General Hospital

Office phone: 519-426-0130 ext. 2454
Cell phone: 226-931-5752

catchthenorfolkace.ca