Enterprise Holdings Foundation support Year of the Cat 2.0

The Norfolk General Hospital Foundation received a surprise donation from The Enterprise Holdings Foundation on Tuesday November 13. It was an early boost to the Norfolk General Hospital Foundation's Year of the Cat 2.0 Campaign. Jennifer White, Foundation Director accepted the $2000 donation from Lindsay Bleach, Enterprise Account Supervisor Insurance Replacement Division. The donation will help purchase a new Computed Tomography Scanner.

The Enterprise Holdings Foundation puts aside funds to give away to organizations and charities. It's up to their staff to decide where the money should go by reaching out to their community insurance partners.

"We have a relationship with Norfolk Mutual Insurance which already does a lot of work with NGH so we thought it would be a nice gift to piggyback their efforts" stated Bleach, "We are able to give a little more this year than last. We have $2000 this year."

"We are so pleased with Enterprise Holdings Foundation's surprise and generous donation to the Year of the Cat 2.0 Campaign. The original CT has been in service since 2006. It will soon come to the end of its serviceable life and therefore is in need of replacing. The connection between our Foundation, Norfolk Mutual and Enterprise is so important to funding health care close to home" said White as she accepted the gift from Enterprise.

Enterprise Holdings Foundation is the company's private foundation established in 1982 to give back to the communities where customers and employees live and work. Since then, the Enterprise Holdings Foundation has contributed more than $354 million to thousands of local nonprofits focused on community improvement, education and environmental stewardship.
